USELESS ELABORATION IN DRESS. I writer in the New York Mail gives the following excellent advice to the women who need it: In the old days of hand sewing how pathets ically women used to bemosn their fates! Then the sewing machine came in, as if it were the herald of the milleunium. There were never to be any more songs of the shirt. All the sewing was to be done up, in an emergency, by that good Fairy of the Household, in a trice, before you could snap your fingers and say Jack Robinson. Oh, what oceans of time women were going to have for every conceiva-ble project under the sun! But straightway they wheeled around, and almost turned the elessing into a curse. Instead of doing as they blessing into a curse. Instead of doing as they had promised to do, getting through the sewing machines to turn every article of dress into a mass of unheard of elaboration. What miles of braiding and yards of tucking and forests of flounces the sewing machine is responsible for!

It is responsible, too, for the elaborateness of style, finish, and ornament which has distinguished the fashions since its advent. To it we owe the utter extinction of simplicity in feminine dress. It was so easy to make up a simple dress upon it like those worn, perforce, in the old days of the needle, in a very short time, that the temptation to put on a few folds or ruffies was not to be resisted by any woman of artistic tendencies—and that means ninetynine women out of every hundred, for they are nearly all born with more or less of the artistic instinct for adorning and beautifying—and this trait of feminine character, for lack of proper training and proper channels of outlet, becomes in woman one of her faults when it should have been one of her virtues.

Now, the curse of the day is the buydening ir woman one of her faults when it should have been one of her virtues.

Now, the curse of the day is the burdening of all feminine clothing with a mass of superfinous ornamentation which costs the life and health of women, and is death to all her higher mental aspirations. If the sewing machine were used as originally intended—as a helper to work off all the sewing of the week in a few hours, then it would indeed be a bleasing. Why not make it so? Why not take a new departure? Why not decree such fashions in outside dress as shall enable any woman to make a new one entire within a few hours from the time she buys the material and the pattern, og to have it done within that time by some one else! In either case the saving would be immense in every way. The same rule could be adopted for all inner garments; and that division of the war-lrobe which comes under the head of "lingerie."

I mean that all of them could be divested of most of their superfluous ruffles and trimmings, and at the caste the save the save the save the save.

I mean that all of them could be divested of most of their superfluous ruilles and trimmings, and at the same time gain immensely in strictly artistic beauty. It was with the immensity of ruilles on wash goods that those terrible "laundress bills" came in. Had it not been for the sewing machine enabling a woman to flounce a Victoria lawn to the waist, she would not now have to pay $5 or $10 to get it properly done. After all, it is the faisest of economy, as it is the worst of taste, to hide a garment in a forest of ruilling, because it is so easy to put it on with the sewing machine, in scoth. "But," says somebody, "wou'll take the bread out of the

It on with the sewing machine, in seoth. "But," says somebody, "you'il take the bread out of the mouths of hundreds and thousands of sewing-machine operators and laundresses if you do anything like this."

Indeed! I thought women wanted to go up higher in the professions, and not be hewers of wood and drawers of water forever! It is argued that there are many healthier and more remungrative occupations, now mostly monopolized by men, just as suitable to them as the above named ones. If women have to be driven into them, it is their own fault, and we are certainly not bound to keep up a wrong state certainly not bound to keep up a wrong state of things by which a whole community anfers, for the sake of any particular class or guild in it. If sewing machines are ever to fulfill their legitimate aim of labor-saving inventions, there must be less call for sewing women and spe-cial laundresses.

A STATUE FOR DR. MARY WALKER There is one thing that Congress can do that would savor of justice. Let it vote $1,000 to Vinnie Ream to make a brass statue of Dr. Mary Walker, to be erected on a dangerous coast somewhere to warn off vessels. It might be considered cruel punishment of Dr. Mary to condemn her to be put into crass by Vinnie Ream, but she deserves it. And besides Vinnie needs a job, and if she does not get this, she may seize upon some man or woman whom the country may like to honor. Perhaps she could not make another statue like that of Lincoln, but she could try. That is unique. It is probably the only stone figure in the world that looks like it might collapse into a heap, BY B. M. WARNER,
